COMMITTEE ON LABOR AND EMPLOYMENT RELATIONS

H.B. 822 by Kuempel

BACKGROUND

The 70th Legislature passed H.B. 1961 which amended the Air Conditioning Contractor License Law. A person holding a valid Class A or B air conditioning contractor license could reapply without taking additional examination to the Texas Department of Labor and Standards. The licensee was required to apply to the commissioner not later than September 1, 1988.

Several licensees across the state missed the 1988 deadline for grandfathering. The agency issued a mailout in July/August of 1988 but many licensees were not informed of the law.

PURPOSE

The purpose of this bill is to extend the grandfather clause to September 1, 1990.

SECTION BY SECTION ANALYSIS

SECTION 1 amends Chapter 581, Acts of the 70th Legislature.

(a) entitles a person holding a class A air conditioning contractor license on September 1, 1987, to a license as a Class A air conditioning and refrigeration contractor, without additional examination if licensee applies to the TDLS no later than September 1, 1990.

(b) entitles a person holding a valid Class B air conditioning contractor license on September 1, 1987 to a license as a Class B air conditioning and refrigeration contractor without additional examination if licensee applies to the TDLS no later than September 1, 1990.

SECTION 2 requires the commissioner of the Texas Department of Labor and Standards to notify each air conditioning and refrigeration licensees in writing by mail no later than November 1, 1989.

SECTION 3. This act takes effect September 1, 1989.

SECTION 4. Emergency Clause.

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

It is the committee's opinion that this bill does not delegate rulemaking authority to a state officer, agency, department or institution.

SUMMARY OF COMMITTEE ACTION

H.B. 822 was considered in a public hearing on February 28, 1989. Testifying for the bill were John D. Chapman, representing himself, and Robert M. Wilson representing Chapman Refrigeration. Testifying on the bill was Richard L. Morgan, Commissioner, Texas Department of Labor and Standards. No one testified against the bill. H.B. 822 was referred to a subcommittee which held a formal meeting on February 28, 1989. The subcommittee voted H.B. 822 favorably back to the Committee. The subcommittee report was considered by the full committee on March 7, 1989. The motion to report the bill favorably, without amendments, and to be placed on the Consent Calendar carried with a vote of 6 ayes and 0 nays.

TO: Honorable Lloyd Criss, Chair
Committee on Labor and Employment Relations
House of Representatives
Austin, Texas

In Re: House Bill No. 822
By: Kuempel

FROM: Jim Oliver, Director

The bill would make no appropriation but could provide the legal basis for an appropriation of funds to implement the provisions of the bill.

The bill would extend the grandfather clause on a class A and class B air conditioning and refrigeration contractor's license with endorsements, through September 1, 1990, and would then exempt these individuals from being required to be examined. The bill would also require the Department to notify in writing, each air conditioning and refrigeration contractor licensee of the provisions of the amendment.

The probable cost of implementing the provisions of the bill during each of the first five years following passage is estimated as follows:

Fiscal Year	Probable Cost Out of the General Revenue Fund
1990	$48,380
1991	-0-
1992	-0-
1993	-0-
1994	-0-

The revenue loss due to the exemption of contractors from the examination requirement cannot be determined.

Similar fiscal implications would continue as long as the provisions of the bill are in effect.

No fiscal implication to units of local government is anticipated.

The bill would extend the grandfather clause on a class A and class B air conditioning and refrigeration contractor's license with endorsements, through September 1, 1990, and would then exempt these individuals from being required to be examined. The bill would also require the Department to notify in writing, each air conditioning and refrigeration contractor licensee of the provisions of the amendment.
